

"Are you my master?"- Saber, fate/stay night

Hello master, here are the instructions to use me:

You can press 1 to see the entirety of the database.

You can press 2 enter a new entry in the database, the system will ask you of the following information in this order:

Date

Hour

Id of the truck

Name of driver

The source of the delivery

Total weight

Then you will enter a loop in order to enter the info of the numbered files, where in each iteration you will be asked for the number of the file, address for the products in the file and the products themselves. You can press 'r' to stop the loop.

You enter the products in the numbered files in a similar fashion to the numbered files, a loop requesting name of product and quantity. You can press 'r' to stop the loop.

You can press 3 to load the data we prepared into the database.

You can press 4 to exit the system.
